DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-22, drawn to a method of producing an assembly of microcomponents, classified in class 216, subclass 11.
- II. Claims 23-37, drawn to an assembly of microcomponents, classified in class 24, subclass 572.1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the assembly of microcomponents could be derived from microcomponents that were fabricated with the extension member in an extended or engaged position. Upon the withdrawal or retraction of the extension member the microcomponents would be configured in the manner set forth in the claims of Group II. Specifically, a retracted extension member would be extended to reduce the separation distance between the microcomponents. The method of fabrication outlined above is different from the method set forth in the claims of Group I. With respect to the limitation of claim 23, which recites, "at least two microcomponents fabricated with a separation distance between them", the examiner notes that the patentability of a product claim is determined by the product itself and not by the method by which the product was produced. Therefore, the recitation of "fabricated with a separation distance between them" is effectively equivalent to reciting, "having a separation distance between them".

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

A telephone call was made to Dave Hoffman on March 15, 2005 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
